THE ART OF TRUE CRAFTSMANSHIP

DDRUM USA CUSTOM SHOP DRUMS

There comes a time in the life of each player when they know EXACTLY what they want to play. Not just something to be hit; an instrument that is so personal, it truly captures the essence of drumming itself.

The Custom Shop Series from Ddrum USA is the realization of that vision. Drawing on over 30 years of drum crafting experience, the artisans at the USA Custom Shop stray far from the assembly line method of manufacturing to give each drum a personality of its own. Starting with select Canadian Maple 6-ply, 5mm shells by Keller™ Woods, each drum is hand treated with a 24-step process that is specifically designed to draw the best sonic properties from the shell.

A smooth, furniture-grade inner shell is achieved to assure that the true warmth of Maple shines through with each stroke. The esoteric beauty of the outer shell -while created to showcase the pristine beauty of the wood- is not overly processed in finishing, in order to create soothing lows, even mids, and sparkling highs.

The sky is literally the limit in choosing the feel and finish of each Custom Shop kit. Whether you're looking for classic Satin Stain, stunning High Gloss Lacquer, die-cast hoops, wood hoops; it can all be achieved. Fades? Bursts? Sparkles? Hotrod Flame Graphics? No problem. Our Custom Shop in Portland, Oregon has an airbrush and pin striping artist on-hand for limitless possibilities.

The palette is enlarged even further with the addition of our new Tour Tuff™ veneer finishes. Made of Masonite™ impact-proof material and chemically bonded to the outer shell, Tour Tuff veneers come in thousands of wood grains, marbles, and solid finishes. Best of all, once the veneer is bonded to the shell, it becomes the final ply in the shell; resulting in improved shell resonance and durability.

Custom bass drum heads are even available from our friends at DrumArt.com, for picture-perfect matching and the ultimate personalized statement.

The bottom line? Better performance from the shell creates better performance from the player. A full sonic spectrum from a personalized instrument that results in the reality of every drummer's dream.

SERIES ACRYLIC DRUMS

5-pc. Diode Fly kit in Purple Acrylic

Yeah, it's been done before, but not like this. Putting a modern spin on a sound that defined a generation is not for the faint of heart, but Diode Series kits by Ddrum come through in fine style. Its single-ply, dual-reinforced Acrylic shells cut with cannon-like bombast, while blending just enough swagger to keep it sweet. Each Dominator or Fly shell pack comes with a Nickel-Plated Brass snare drum, adding further chaos to the mix with voluminous excess. Accented with tube-style lugs and available in 6 different not-so-common colors, Diode Series drums make an unshakable statement to all that see or play them.

DOMINION ASH

Ash is notorious for being one of the most musical woods. Its deeply resonant and darker qualities make it more preferred than Maple for guitar bodies, while its vibrant grain has the stunning visual properties of Oak. Ddrum's new Dominion Ash kits capture the essence of this oft-overlooked gem of the forest with a limited run of kits in Player, Dorian, and new Pocket configurations.

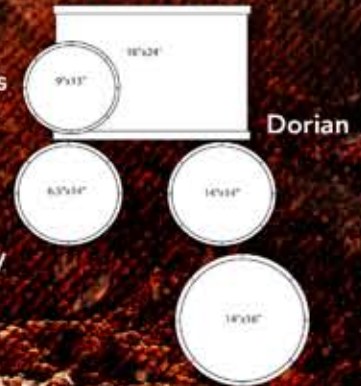

5-pc. Dominion Ash Player kit in Purple Gloss Lacquer with optional 7"x8" and 10"x13" tom toms and 12"x14" floor tom.

Dominion Ash Player and Dorian

Sculpting a sound that is both tonally pure and resolutely focused, Dominion Ash's shells permeate with remarkable depth and clarity. The initial run of Player and Dorian configuration kits are limited to four stunning finishes, and only 100 sets per finish.

The Player configuration is a go-to kit for any musical situation, while the Dorian delivers breathtaking heavy-handed punch with a larger kick and toms.

The Pocket Kit

Body and Soul

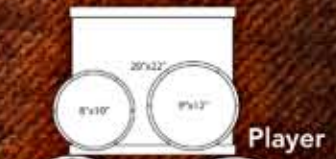

This truly unique set-up is specifically tailored to the player that wants to create a DEEP pocket in the groove. The 20"x20" kick keeps the feel tight without sacrificing much needed bottom end, and the 7"x13" snare delivers sweet crack without being robbed of depth. In contrast, shallow toms create a more musical tone down the scale. To compliment the darker nature of Dominion Ash's shell grain, the hardware and Die-Cast hoops on the new Pocket kit have been plated in Black-Nickel Chrome, for an unrivaled visual and sonic feast.

5-pc. Dominion Dominator kit in Anaheim Orange Gloss Lacquer

Trends come and go, but Maple is still the benchmark standard for optimum performance in drum shells. It looks beautiful and resonates sound to perfection. Ddrum's Dominion Maple drums answer the demands of the most particular players by putting the features every drummer requires right in their pocket. Every facet of the 100% Maple shell - from the precision dual 45 degree bearing edges to the gloss lacquered finish- is hand crafted to our exacting specifications for perfect performance. Die-Cast hoops are added to the equation for volume and tuning precision, and the package is rounded out by our tour-ready Agenda Pro 300 Series Hardware. Available in a package to suit nearly every playing style, and add-on toms and snares in just about every size imaginable, Dominion Maple drums are the key to taking the lead.

PURE, REAL, UNRESTRICTED TONE FOR THE GIGGING DRUMMER

Sometimes the simplest solution is the best answer. This is the thinking behind Diatribe Series drums; pure essentials for optimal results. Rather than weighing the natural Birch shells down with excessive lacquers, Diatribe shells stick with hand-rubbed satin finishes. This sets the shells free to sing with a clarity that is simple, defined, and spontaneous.

To contrast their natural beauty, Diatribe drums come with Black-Nickel chrome-plating on all shell hardware. Toms are slightly shallow for added focus, and Agenda 200 hardware is included to make the package a complete solution for the gigging drummer.

Wake The Dead

Diablo Death Punx

Take no prisoners. Unleash a percussive assault that will leave nothing but stunned silence in your wake. The Diablo Death-Punx drum package is the first built specifically to stand up to the demands for playing Speed Metal. Two 20"x22" kick drums with lacquered Maple hoops, two rack toms with our new SpearHead tom mount, two floor toms for deep, penetrating lows, and our new 7"x14", fifteen-ply snare drum.

A heavy, high tension hardware package is included to stand up to full-throttle abuse, and two Agenda 100 dual-chain kick pedals will assure that every stroke is quickly transferred to the heads. Choose from color combinations like Dim (black drums/black hardware) or new Redrum (black drums/deep red hardware) and all that is left is the chops to play it; are you brave enough?

VIVA A REVOLUTION

DIABLO
COMBAT PUNK

Punx

Ddrum has heard the call from the drummers of the underground. High energy performance demands gear that can take a beating and still deliver the goods. In creating the Combat Punx, Diablo's latest addition, we wanted to make a kit with a finish so durable, it could stand up to the most heinous abuse. That is why we have taken Military-Grade camouflage canvas, and heat-sealed it to Diablo's 9-ply Basswood shell. The covering is stitched at the seam to prevent separation, and bonded to the shell with heat and pressure to prevent warpage; making it one of the most durable finishes in existence.

Upgrades like a 20"x22" kick drum with Maple hoops, a 15-ply, 7"x14" snare drum, and the choice of three coverings are -ofcourse- standard equipment. With the Combat Punx in your drumming artillery, get ready to march onto the punk rock battle field and cry havoc.

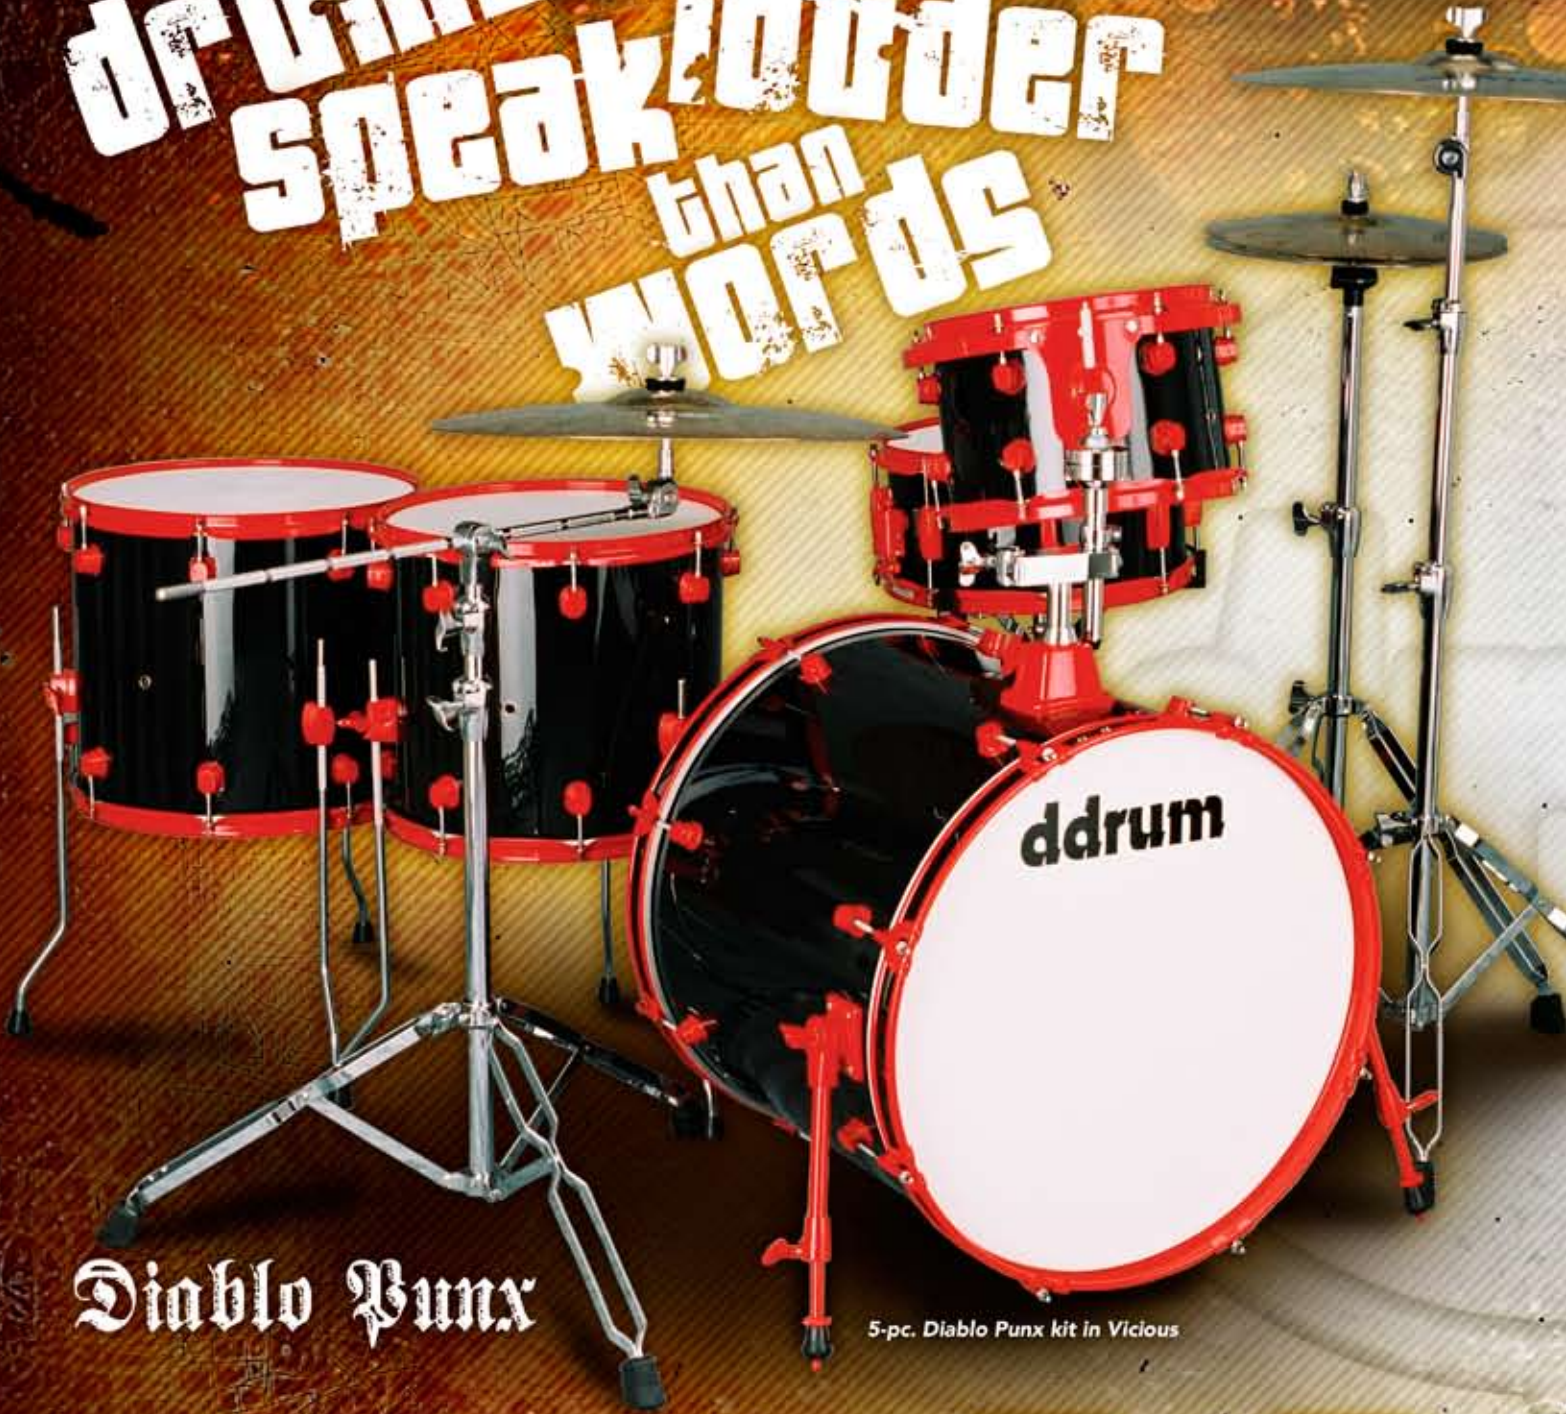

SHE*PUNX

Yeah, it's pink; but this is not gear for the lightweight. For the first kit designed exclusively for the young female drummer, we wanted to make a kit that would rock without breaking your back. All of the features standard in the Diablo Camo Punx kit are here, but in smaller sizes; so every player can go into battle with gear that fits.

DIABLO PUNX and PLAYER

Why should drummers have to wait for premium gear? Don't settle for the standard, create your own with Diablo drums by Ddrum. Featuring elements normally found on kits three-times its cost, the Diablo's visual and sonic bombast is the perfect kit for players in their formative years. Its 9-ply Basswood shell package has a tonal punch that is also an affordable solution for the gigging pro in need of a workhorse.

Choose from two configurations in four different finish/hardware color combinations. Each kit comes standard with a heavy-weight double-braced hardware package with an extra convertible straight/boom stand. Diablo also gives you the option of expanding your kit with add-on drums in sizes from 8" to 18" and extra bass drums to fit any set-up preference.

DDRUM 4 SE ELECTRONIC DRUM SYSTEM

The Cast Precision Mesh Head Pads

The compact design, "real feel", and versatility of the new Cast Precision Mesh Head Pads make them truly amazing.

Each pad, featuring a web drumhead, is assembled with a rugged, cast aluminum shell. The design offers unparalleled tracking and a greatly enhanced feel. Also, with the new mesh head pads, the acoustic noise is virtually eliminated!

The Cast Precision Mesh Head Pads detects exactly how hard you strike the head when playing. More than 1000 levels of dynamics can be detected! This is especially useful when playing the multi-sampled Signature drum sounds of the ddrum4 SE sound library. The dynamic response is as close to the "real thing" as it gets.

The Cast Precision Kick

The Cast Precision Kick features "natural rebound" making it possible to play bounce on and off for even more nuance capabilities.

The ddrum4 SE Signature Sounds

The ddrum4 SE module holds a selection of exclusive Mega Drumkits Signature Series drum sounds recorded by the famous drummers Simon Phillips, Dennis Chambers, Kenny Aronoff and Mel Gaynor in the Galaxy studio in Belgium in the autumn of 2000. All Signature sounds were played by each individual drummer. The drummers used their own typical setup with drums and cymbals. It's their tuning, their choice of drum heads etc. From each session ddrum carefully selected and processed the sounds and tailored them for the ddrum4 SE drum system.

Now also available for download, great dance sounds made by Steve Sidelnyk, the drummer for Madonna, Mirwais, Craig Armstrong, Massive Attack and many more.

The Cast Precision Cymbals and Hi-hat

The cymbal and hi-hat controller will revolutionize the way drummers perceive electronic cymbals. The cymbal's playing area consists of a 10" round metal plate covered by a thin rubber material to make it quiet. In addition, the cast cymbal and hi-hat utilizes the ddrum4 SE multi-sample technology offering multiple samples stored as a single sound. The ddrum Cast cymbals offer both bell and ride. Play the way you are used to or in a whole new way. Since the cymbal is chokeable you can choke it either with your hand or with the drumstick itself. You use the same cymbal pad whether you play crash or ride. The zones will be there depending on the sound you use.

The innovative hi-hat triggering interface makes it possible to play a continuous three-way action (foot, open and closed sounds). The hi-hat mounts onto a traditional, standard hi-hat stand. The Cast Hi-hat comes in two parts: The actual holder with the playing surface and a specially developed, adjustable hi-hat clutch.

Expand your sound library free of charge!

As a ddrum4 SE owner you have access to ddrum's large and constantly growing Sound Library. Connect your ddrum4 SE to an internet connected computer and download new samples at the ddrum web site (www.ddrum.com) - free of charge! Until today fetching samples from the internet has been a long and tedious chore. Not any longer. Easier to use!

ACOUSTIC & ELECTRONIC DRUM PRODUCTS SINCE 1983

Something Completely Different

The Revolution began in 1983, when the Clavia Company developed a radical electronic drum design incorporating traditional drum heads and high sensitivity piezo triggers. Ddrum's unique design set a benchmark for innovation when their trademark red Acoustic Pro Drum Triggers were introduced; allowing players access to a universe of sonic possibility from the standard drum kit. From those humble beginnings arose a re-think in the way electronic percussion was sampled, triggered, and played. Generations of pads, triggers, and electronic drum modules have set the stage for the Ddrum 4SE; the most accurate and professionally preferred complete electronic drum kit in existence.

In 2005, Ddrum crossed into yet another percussive frontier: the re-thinking of acoustic drums. In the vast landscape of today's "Been there, Done that" Drum market, it is often difficult—if not, impossible—to find something that truly shatters the mold of conventionality.

2006 dawns on the New Drum Revolution with a line of percussion instruments so suited to the individual drummer that all others before it are now irrelevant. New woods, exotic finishes, tour-ready kits and triggers, blurring the line between acoustic and electronic, and tone so distinct that it is truly staggering. These are calling-cards of change, and your participation is essential. Chances are your favorite drummers are already playing it on stages around the world.

Join the revolution.
